The Honorable Malcolm R. Currie
Director of Defense Research and Engineering
Washington, D. C. 20301

Dear Mal:

Thank you for your letter of 1 July regarding the contribution Dr. Stevens has made to the Net Technical Assessment Task Force of the Defense Science Board. I am pleased that we have been able to contribute to the important work being done by the Board and its panels. As indicated in my 21 June letter, I regard the new charter of the Net Technical Assessment Task Force a welcome mechanism for enunciating critical intelligence questions in the context of specific consumer needs. The potential that this mechanism offers for consumer feedback and the development of focused collection requirements warrants our continued support.

As in past efforts of the Net Technical Assessment Task Force, Dr. Stevens will certainly be available to participate and represent CIA in future activities where he can be of help. In regard to the current Task Force charter, there has already been participation of DCI representatives from the Scientific and Technical Intelligence Community of USIB in the person of [redacted] as well as members of the Intelligence Community Staff. In view of the value of the Task Force activity to the intelligence community, I think it is desirable that, in addition to a CIA member, there be a Task Force member representing the Intelligence Community. My Staff has discussed this with Dr. Steininger, and if it meets with your approval, [redacted] of the Intelligence Community Staff will serve as this representative.

Sincerely,

W. E. Colby
